A booklet on introducing the Islamic Madhahib University

*** **

PERFACE

The University of Islamic Madhahib with emphasis on principles of religion and Taqrib (proximity of Islamic schools of Thought) is committed to continue the teachings of the holy prophet Muhammad (PBUH) and the tasks of Islamic seminaries which have no attachment to any particular individual or group. In fact the Islamic history can provide the reasearchers enough concrete evidence on this claim.

Sheikh Toosi Islamic Seminaries in Baghdad had avast range in this regard, to the point that these schools were used by many of Sunni scholars, and aside from studying in Shiite Theological Schools, great Shiite scholars like Allameh Helli, Shahid-e Awwal and Shahid-e Thani, also studied in Sunni Theological Seminaries of Baghdad, Egypt, Mecca, Medina, al-khalil, Damascus and Qods for many years.

Reciprocal Ejazats (permissions) among Islamic sects scholars which are mentioned in Biahar al-Anwar Ejazats and the Ejazat of grand Ayatollah Mar'ashi, and also many of the shared books in Shiite and Sunni areas such as Jame al-Maqasid Soyouti, Ihya ulum al-din, Tazkerah al-Sāme (manners of teaching and learning), Manzomeh Sabzevari etc. are the signs of solid solidarity of Islamic theological schools around the world.
